

Mr Charles Aldridge Slappy

November 17, 2013

Charles Aldridge Slappy, entered into eternal rest November 17, 2013, beloved husband of Evelyn Seward Slappy; father of Tintera(Brian) Sterling; grandfather of Kingston; son of Charlie(the late, Hazel); one aunt; one sister-in-law; three brothers-in-law; and host of cousins and other relatives and friends.

Family Hour Wednesday, November 27, 12 noon followed by Memorial Services at 12:30pm at the Russell Memorial CME Church, 703 South Alston Ave, Durham, NC 27701.

Events

NOV Visitation 12:00PM - 12:30PM

27

Russell Memorial CME Church
703 S Alston Ave, Durham, NC, US, 27701

NOV Service 12:30PM

27

Russell Memorial CME Church
703 S Alston Ave, Durham, NC, US, 27701

Comments

“ Mr. Slappy had a impact on my life as a student at Durham Tech in 1994-95. While he was a great teacher, he applied what he taught in real life. I will never forget the experience and life lessons learned when our class served at the soup kitchen in Durham. This was one of the most authentic genuine persons I have ever met.

M. Ward

Michael - November 30, 2020 at 09:52 PM

“ I have told people about Mr. Slappy and how much I loved his classes for years. I took a second class just because he was teaching it. I was just again talking about how he inspired me to volunteer in the soup kitchen and decided to see if I could find him on social media to reach out to him. I was shocked to find we lost him years ago. To his family, if you ever read this, just know that no matter how many people tell you that he was loved, there are exponentially more out there that you haven't heard from yet. I'm broken-hearted to learn that this great man is no longer on the earth. The world is a better place because of him and because of the lives he has changed. Thank you, Mr. Slappy for creating a beautiful legacy!
DTCC nursing student 2001-2002

Tonya - June 29, 2019 at 11:52 AM

“ Many people ask me who my favorite teacher was growing up. To be honest, I hardly remember any of my teacher's names much less specifics about their class. However, Professor Slappy's class and teaching style will forever be etched into my brain. There was something about him that made learning fun and serious :) . He was by far my favorite teacher and will always be remembered. I'm sorry for your loss. I just wanted you to know that he touched my life and will be remembered.

I took his Sociology class at Durham Tech CC in 1998.

Pete Sepulveda

Peter Sepulveda - July 21, 2016 at 10:07 AM

“ I know this is very late in coming but I didn't know Professor Slappy had went home to Jesus. I want to share how he helped to change my life. Professor Slappy was a summer academic advisor and I went in seek help about transferring to a larger university. I wasn't sure where I should go. I didn't know him very well, but he told me that it was not as important as to what school I transferred too. The most important thing was the person I was to become. Then he pointed across the hall at another office. He said " that guy over there went to Duke and I went to another university, but look at us. We both ended up in the same place and I'm much happier." I never forgot it. He was a great guy with real advice.

C. Donohue - February 01, 2015 at 08:30 AM

“ Charles was a great person.I grew up in the same neighborhood.My aunt Kathryn Bevins rented from Mrs Slappy,his mother.What a wonderful neighborhood.Education was a must 10 m.d.,2 DDS,3 lawyers and 3 Ph.D were raised and nurtured in that neighborhood.We are so proud of professor slappy. Bless the family.Larrysperrynd@yahoo.com

Larry Perry M.D.. - January 11, 2014 at 04:04 PM

“ Just found out Dr./Mr. Slappy died recently.

A real loss, one of the better teachers I ever had, and I have taken courses at 4 higher educational institutions.

A real pleasure to know.

Peter Wells - January 02, 2014 at 06:40 PM

“ I was a student of Mr. Slappy and I graduated from Durham Tech in 2007. My prayers are with the family. May God comfort you daily. Sonya Ellis Watson

Sonya E. Watson - December 01, 2013 at 06:53 PM

“ The Slappy Family, Death is always untimely especially this time of the year. It may seem like there's no comfort anywhere, when someone we love die. you can take comfort in know this 2 Corinthians 1:3,4. "May you have undeserved kindness and from God the Father of tender mercies and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our trials so that we may be able to comfort others in any sort of trial with the comfort that we received from God." I hope you will read this from your copy of the Bible.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth

Elizabeth - November 28, 2013 at 11:06 AM

“ I am deeply saddened to hear of the passing of Professor Slappy. I was one of his students from the class of 2008. I thoroughly enjoyed his style of teaching and him as a person. He was very witty. He always made sure he never left a student behind. He will greatly be missed by all he loved and helped. RIP Professor Slappy

Tara Jackson - November 25, 2013 at 09:36 AM