“ Mr. James Winston Sessoms, Jr was a very special man. I met him early one morning when he began to deliver papers to our poorly lit, complicated neighborhood. He persisted, when I thought he would surely give up this route. Over the years, he and I would greet each other at 4 am when I walked. He would tell me to be careful; I would tell him that he is a Blessing to us. He was a Blessing because he took his work seriously, made sure the newspapers arrived by 4:15 am, and always had a pleasant word and smile (even when his car had been sideswiped). When he stopped his car to say "hi", we exchanged a few words. At Holiday time, he would tell me how important it is to have your family nearby. I think that must have been true for him. I will miss him, as I know his family and others will.

There were six of us who formed a special friendship in third grade - Charolette Green, Tonie Wynn, J.W. Sessoms , Glenwood Mitchell, Bobby Askew, and Claytee White. We rode the same school bus for years and there was always someone in that group that led in classes, on the playground, and in the community. J.W. also led on the basketball court at Charles Grant White High School in Powellsville, NC. Most of us parted ways and went in different directions after high school, never getting together again. Our love endured as it does today as we surround the family in sincere condolences and warm hugs.
