“ Hi Mommie,

I love you more today than ever. I want you to know that so many things that you told me, that I may or may not had paid heed to, I realize (since you have gone home), are true. I MISS YOU AND ERNEST SO MUCH!!! Since you have been gone, so many times have I longed for your warm embrace and your motherly spirit. I'm crying now but I want you to know that GOD has been good to me. Continue to RIP. You're so beautiful. I strive everyday to be the mother that you were and still are. Give Ernest a kiss for me and tell him I love him. I love you so much. I miss you Mommie.

“ Hi Mommy,

Happy Thanksgiving. This was the time of your very last meal before you went on to be with the LORD, remember? You had two plates of food on Thanksgiving Day. I love you and I miss you and Ernest. Say hello and give Ernest a kiss for me.

“ Hi Mommy,

I love and miss you so much. I don't know how I'm making it without you and Ernest. I know that your spirit is inside of me, guiding me everyday, looking after me. I love you Mommy. Sometimes my heart is so heavy. I long to see you again one day. Say hello to Ernest for me and tell him that I love him so much. RIP Mommy and Ernest. My beautiful angels.

“ Happy Birthday Mommie!!! I love you so much. You became 86 years young yesterday. I know you and Ernest are resting in God's bosom. I want you to know that, even though I cry with a heavy heart and long to see your loving face and hold your warm and tender hand just one more time, I'm okay. Mommie, I need you to know that I am okay, So, please don't worry your pretty, little heart about me. Please, I want you and Ernest to continue to rest in peace. Love you forever, love your daughter, Vickie. WHOOTY WHO!!! THIS IS THE DAY THAT THE LORD HAS MADE. LET US REJOICE AND BE GLAD IN IT. PSALM 118:24
