“ Hi Vincent,

I love and miss you. Continue to rest in peace.

Vickie Cradle - December 19, 2019 at 02:25 AM

“ Hi Vincent,

We all miss you so much. Everyday I look at our beautiful daughter and I see so much of you in her but I'm sure you know that because you are watching over her. We feel your spirit all the time. Please continue to let us know that you are around. Everyone misses you so much...from your mom to Tiger (a special thought for Tiger...he misses his brother so much), Victor, Vincent, Vickiea and of course, myself. Your sweet mother and I are loving each other more and more each day. Did you remember that encouraging text message you sent me when my mother passed away? I still and always will have it. Little did we know that just 16 days after you sent the text, you would be going home to Glory to be with the Lord. You left your impressions on a multitude of people from Paine Weber to MTA to DATA to Coca-Cola to Duke and many, many more. Thank you for the wonderful memories.

“ I just returned to work today and learned about this terrible accident. Mr. Vincent was a sweet man who took great interest in all of his fellow employees. He and I talked regularly about life after retirement. It is a tregedy he will never get to experience this. I will truly miss talking to him on the bus and hearing his words of encouragement as I went to the gym to workout. My thoughts and prayers go out to his family - please know he was loved here at Duke.

“ Mr. Vincent was a awesome man. I've only known him for 3 months and he has greatly impacted my life. He always told me, "Do what makes you happy and don't let anyone decide what makes you happy and love has no color. Or they will have to answer to big brother. I'll be Big Brother on campus"

RIP My brother. I will miss you but will never forget you.

Hey,
I still remember the "good old days" when Vincent, his mom and brother would sit on the bench and hang out in front of the building (NYC). Those were the golden times - he was always cheerful, made me laugh and had the utmost respect for family, friends and the community. While I have not seen you in a while, I will miss you - you are my brother.
